The Electric Franchise. The joint committee on light, finance and general laws of the City Council met in the Common Council chamber Saturday night and after hearing the re-Mr. Hugh Hazleton, an electrical expert from New York, who was retained by the city to advise the committee on the technical points of the various bids submitted to Council July 10, decided to recommend the passage of an ordinance accepting the proposition of Mr. E. E. Mandeville, of Philadelphia. This had been anticipated from the time the bids were submitted, as that of Mr. Mandeville was considered the best and most advantageous for the city. The Mandeville bid was $5,000 for the franchise for thirty years, or $8,500 for the franchise and the old plant, the city to use not less than eighty-five are lights at m price not to exceed $75 per annum. His price for incande cent lights for mumicipal purposes is $16.50 per annum for twenty-five can'le power lamps, and $19.50 for thirty two candle power For current to private consum ers Mr Mandeville proposes to charge 12 certs net for the first hour and 7 cents for each additional hour, and to give a discount of 50 per cent, on incandescent lights used by the city, except in the Mayor's office, which shall be free. The churches, the armory and the hospital are to be allowed a discount of 50 per cent. He offers the city 5 per cent. of the gross receipts in lieu of taxes.

There were several other bids from outsiders, and it is understood that the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Ternon Ratiway Company was anxious to submit a proposition, but could not come before the committee at this meet-It is understood that the electric railway company is prepared to offer a rate of $45 per annum for arc lights, provided that not less than 100 lights will be used, and will sell surrent to the city to be retailed to the consumers at a Heavy Rains.

The humid weather of yesterday was followed in the atternoon by a shower of rain, followed by others at intervals until nearly midnight. Thunder and lightning accompanied the downpours The rainfall after dark was torrential at times, flooding the streets and in some instauces choking sewers. But few persons attended the night services in the churches in consequence of the rain. Lightning was flashing almost incessantly and there were some heavy prashes of thunder. About the time the excursion steamers arrived up the rain was failing steamers arrived up the rain was inting in torrents. As is usual on Sundays, the river was dotted with gasoline launches, most of which came from Washington. They were compriled to battle with the elements on their homeseard runs. So far as is known there were no accidents to any of them. Roads and bridges near this city are said to have been considerably damaged by the

The Churches

Oating to the sultry weather of yesterday morning the churches, as a rale, were but slimly a tended, and at night the heavy rains kept many people at home. The services were conducted acday's G-zette Bishi p Granberry preached directed to draw warrants in favor of the interesting and instructive sprin yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Southern Methodist Church. Both the morning and evening arymons at the Second Presbyterian Church were presched by Rev. Thomas Gordon. At St. Mary's Church the services were con ducted by Rev. Father Lawrence Kei-y. the assistant rector of the church, assisted by R-v. Father Richard L. Carne, of Old Point Comfort. The services at the Methodist Protestant Church were conducted by Rev. Mr. Tyson. The services in the other churches were in charge of their respective pastors.

Feil Into a Cellar.

Mr. J. William Norris, a carpenter living on north Fairfax street, late Saturday night stepped inside the new entrance which is being constructed on the west side of the Braddock House, and in the darkness failed to notice that there was an opening into the cellar. Mr. Norris fell to the cellar floor, but was not rendered unconscious, and his groans attracted the attention of sever I passersby, including Policeman Roberts. Mr. Norris was carried to the office of Dr. Warfield, where it was tound that his telt wrist had been fractured and he had received a number of painful bruises. He was removed to his

Wanted a Red Cobble Stone.
